Supreme Chaplain's Message

I don't know about you, but some nights I have trouble sleeping. At bedtime, the events of the day are still ringing in my ears. When I turn out the light, the stubborn problem I wrestled with at 9 a.m. comes back for a nocturnal visit. An unpleasant encounter in the early afternoon returns for a repeat performance. The letter or email I wish I hadn't received is there for my mind's eye to read with 20/20 clarity. All the while, I'm thinking about what awful shape I'll be in the next day if I don't get some sleep.

An old song by Irving Berlin advises, "If you're worried and you can't sleep, count your blessings instead of sheep. And you'll fall asleep counting your blessings."

Not bad advice. But we should not only count our blessings at the end of the day; we should also give God thanks and praise for all the ways he has blessed us.

The Church, in fact, figured all of this out a long time ago and has an official prayer to bring the day to a close.

THE CANTICLE OF SIMEON

The Liturgy of the Hours, also known as the Divine Office or breviary, marks the hours of the day with prayer — morning, midday, evening and nighttime. Bishops, priests and deacons are obligated to pray it, but all are encouraged to pray as well. The last prayer of the day is called Compline, which comes from a Latin word that means "complete." Compline, or night prayer, is a way of making our day complete.

This prayer consists of an examination of conscience, a hymn in which we ask God to be with us through the night, a psalm that speaks of remembering God and his mercy even at night, and then, the pièce de résistance: the Canticle of Simeon.

In the beautiful scene in St. Luke's Gospel where Mary and Joseph, in accord with the Law of God, bring the Child Jesus to the Temple in Jerusalem to dedicate him to the Lord, they meet a layman named Simeon. Simeon was part of the remnant of Israel that looked forward to the coming of the Messiah. He was a prayerful man whose heart was full of hope in all that God had promised. No doubt he frequently prayed in the Temple, but on this occasion he was prompted by the Spirit to go there, where he encountered the Holy Family.

When Simeon took the Child Jesus into his arms, his eyes of faith were opened and he knew he held the longexpected Savior. Filled with the Holy Spirit, he uttered this canticle, which forms the centerpiece of the Church's night prayer: "Lord, now you let your servant go in peace; your word has been fulfilled. My own eyes have seen the salvation which you have prepared in the sight of every people: a light to reveal you to the nations and the glory of your people Israel" (Lk 2:29-32).

What a beautiful prayer to offer as each day's work comes to an end! Instead of ruminating over my worries or reliving any mishap the day has brought, I find that when I truly concentrate on the meaning of this canticle, I am better able to put the whole day in its proper perspective.

ENTRUST, EXAMINE, REST

While we know very little about Simeon's life, he can surely be counted among those who struggled to "hope against hope." When he saw Jesus, all that he spent his life and energy hoping and praying for came to pass. Jesus put Simeon's whole life in its proper perspective, and Simeon experienced an exquisite peace. So, if I follow Simeon's lead, as each day comes to an end, I need not avoid my worries and wounds, nor do I have to salve them with artificial happiness of self-induced positive thinking. On the contrary, all I need to do is to entrust the whole package — all my strengths and weaknesses, together with the events of the day — to the Lord Jesus, who is just as present to me as he was to Simeon.

In that moment of trust and love, I can also serenely examine my conscience. If I continue to follow Simeon's lead, I realize that, in the day that is ending, the Lord has been placed in my arms — entrusted to me in the Eucharist I have celebrated and received; in the Word of God I have proclaimed and listened to; in the people I have encountered, including those who are in need and those with whom I may have disagreed.

When I am spiritually alert, I will ask if I paused during the course of the day and really opened my heart to the living presence of Christ in the Eucharist, just as Simeon opened his heart to the Child Jesus. I will look to see if, like Mary, I truly held Jesus, the living Word of God, in my heart. Did I try to see the face of Christ in those I encountered over the course of the day? Did my eyes of faith perceive the light of Christ in others and truly glimpse the salvation that God has prepared for every person whom I am privileged to serve? Did my words, actions and demeanor reflect the light and goodness of the Christ I held in my arms? Then, entrusting myself to the Lord, I fall asleep in his peace.

So as each day begins and ends, my prayer for you is this: "May the Lord protect you as you stay awake and watch over you as you sleep, that awake you may keep watch with Christ, and asleep, rest in his peace."

Chaplain's Message

Deacon Dave Ludwikowski

donnadavelud@verizon.net

Brother Knights and Lovely Ladies:

February could be referred to as the Month of Love, since it seems to be centered around Valentine's Day. As most of us think of ways to show our significant others how much we care for them, what about showing some love and respect to those we don't love so much, too?

Perhaps it's the neighbor who just drives us crazy, or the driver who cuts in front of you in traffic without signaling, or the boss who just can't seem to get off your back at work.

Next time any of these happens, stop for a moment and remember, these are people, too, who have their own problems, challenges, successes and failures just like you and me and the people we love.

Don't they deserve your love and respect just as much because they are human - just like you and me?? No matter how much we dislike (or even hate) someone, we can't forget that he/she is a human being, made in the image and likeness of God just as we are, and that we need to show him/her love and respect, just as Our Lord and Savior would.

This is something we must, as Catholic Christians, do each and every day if we are to obtain eternal life in His heavenly kingdom.

Pope Francis is always asking us to pray for him. If you haven't been doing so, I ask you to please add him to the list of people that you pray for.

And finally, while you're at it, in these troubled, uncertain times, please also pray for country and its leaders (love them or hate them) and ask Our Lord and His Blessed Mother to guide them (and us) so that the decisions that are made are made for the good of all.

May God Bless each of you with His peace.

Vivat Jesus!

"...obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need."

Grand Knight's Message

Grand Knight Bernie Wrisk

bwriskgk1960@gmail.com

How are my brothers doing with their new year commitments? Are you facing a minor challenge to yourself, or are you struggling with a major one. Are you unhappy with seeing others succeed and you fail? Maybe you need a point of respite to get refocused. A good suggestion would be the annual retreat our council plans to the Loyola Retreat house. This year it takes place in the last weekend of February. Either way, you must keep working on it and push through. As our Lord informs us through his words in Proverbs 11:18, regarding sowing and reaping, "A wicked person earns deceptive wages, but the one who sows righteousness reaps a sure reward." I like the way this is worded in this NIV version. It gives me reassurance that God is not deceived and is well aware of all that is going on around us. We need to trust in Him and keep our hand to the plow and keep sowing in His name and then be patient on Him.

I also want to bid a fond farewell to our brother Rick Ostopowicz, who will be transferring to another council that is much closer to his new home. Rick has given a great boost to this council over the past few years in using his technology, publishing, and wordsmith skills to help us in many ways. He first was a superb recorder for multiple years at our business meetings. Then he took over this newsletter and helped to get us 1st and 2nd place recognition in the state competition. He served as our Chancellor and kept in touch with our RSVP candidates. He also helped set up our council Facebook page, council website and the Beaumont web site. Above all that he helped cochair and then chair the annual Charity Run for our council. This is his final newsletter for our council, thanks to the willingness of PGK Ed Cogswell volunteering to take those reigns back again. Thank you for your awesome example of servant leadership Sir Knight Rick. You will be missed.

Thank you to all my brothers again for your support and services provided over this last month. Much was done in planning and prepping for council events or working on maintaining our wonderful council home. Much still has yet to be done and we could use your help. Please enjoy reading through this wonderful informational resource of what our council is involved with in the next month and beyond. If anything strikes your interest, please reach out to us to see how you can get involved. Or if there is something perhaps that you think is missing, also reach out to us. Contact myself or any officer or chairman of any event and get involved. Also don't forget to consider other Catholic friends and acquaintances that need to become closer friends and invite them to join our council.

Vivat Jesus!

Brothers and Friends:

As we prepare to celebrate the instituting of Patapsco Council, we continue our search for Council Memorabilia.

Some of you have come forward with interesting things and let us tell you some of what we have found. The original minutes of when the Council was instituted survive and we see discussion of choosing the name of the Council.

The plans for the additions to the Council Home in the 1970s have been located. Awards and reports have been found to include many from the 1930s.

But our search continues for other materials and we hope you search around and send along a little note of what you may have.

PGK Ed Cogswell

Respect Life

Co-Editor Tim McCarthy

worthywarden7@gmail.com

Considering the two hours many of us stood in place to wait our turn to march, I believe this year's March For Life may have been the largest ever. This was the 45th year since 300 people first gathered in 1974. This year's theme is "Love Saves Life."

President Trump and Vice President Mike Pence addressed us from the Rose Garden at the White House on the Jumbotron. House Speaker Paul Ryan spoke in person.

The January issue of Columbia magazine was dedicated to the March for Life in Washington, DC. According to a recent news Knights of Columbus new release, the January 19 march "has become the largest annual civil rights demonstration in the world" (Cullen, J. 2018) in support of the pro-life movement. Included in this year's overwhelming turnout was Lindsay Carter (photo above), the daughter of current member and Worthy Recorder Sir Knight Rob Carter. Lindsay attended as part of a student delegation from Mt. DeSales Academy.

Got an urge to celebrate like the Irish around St Patrick's Day? If so, we have two opportunities this year. The Rigadoo continues to be a fun event on a Friday night the week before St Patrick's Day which is March 9th. Contact Mike Karpers or the Beaumont Hall for more information on this event. Then a new St Patrick's Day dance will actually take place on March 17. Look for the flyer in this newsletter for more information on it or contact Joseph Melchor at 410-627-5938 or teacherman68@hotmail.com. "SPECIAL REQUEST" – The March 17 dance is pulling together a wheelbarrow of cheer to be raffled off. In order to make it quite the money maker we are asking for each member of our council to help provide a donation towards this wheelbarrow. Please bring to a future meeting or drop off at the council home any bottle of wine, liquor or beer or make a monetary contribution. Thank you for your help.

Dine out fundraiser nights are coming back to finish up this Columbian year. Mark your calendars for Thursday February 22 at Kelsey's Restaurant and Bar, and Thursday, March 8th at Peace A Pizza. More to follow. Please contact your GK if you can help him to promote either of these for us.

Community

The Monday night men's prayer meetings are still suspended for the month of February. We encourage all to attend Fr Hamilton Okeke's Praise and Worship sessions on Monday nights in the St Mark Chapel at 7:30pm (except during the Rosary Monday which is the 2nd Monday of each month). From this gathering and mixing with other parishioners we may formulate the next prayer group idea or topic. If you have any interest or suggestions, please reach out to Brother Stephen Schwing at 410-960-4132. Please consider joining this fraternal bonding and faith building opportunity. One suggestion was to consider opening it up to married couples.

The Charity Run that usually takes place in June needs a volunteer to take the lead in putting it together. Your Grand Knight would gladly help guide you through the steps in making this huge fundraiser for our council a continued success for the 6th year in a row. Please consider being a part of this fun event that brings so much positive recognition to our council.

Culture of Life

Forty Days for Life has been praying before abortion facilities since 2005. We just received word that since the last march, four more facilities we prayed before have closed. They are in Beltdorf, Iowa, Belfast, Northern Ireland, Alaska, and North Carolina. The next 40 Days for Life Campaign runs from February 14 to March 25. See Tim McCarthy for further information.

Church

Our Annual Shrove Tuesday Pancake Supper will be held on Tuesday, February 13 at the council home 5-7 PM. At 7 PM, the St Joseph Monastery Youth Group will reenact the stations of the Cross in a tableau presentation. This is a great way to get together for this traditional celebration and prepare yourself for the upcoming Lenten season. For more information contact Mike Doetzer, PGK, at 410-242-6130.

Youth

Congratulations to our Chairman Scott Fridley for attracting a larger number than last year in contestants for our Council Free Throw competition in January. With 43 contestants we got a back log that had to wait their turn. Thanks for GK Bernie Wrisk, DGK John Journell, Guard Henry Dulaney and Ryan Buckley for helping Scott run the event that day. It was nice to submit winners in 5 out of the 6 age groups for boys and all 6 out of 6 for the girls to go onto the District competition. Some of these have survived the District level and are heading to the State competition in March.

Holiday for Hope- Make a gift that will make a Life Changing Impact

One of our recent transfer Knights is Andrew Greene. He has been in the United States for just over 2 years now and if you met him, you would notice he has a foreign accent. He is from Sierra Leone. Although he has done much for our council while here and many other peace focused non profits in the United States, he has also been continuing to support a large group of children back in his home country with a caring Christmas Gift of teddy bears or other toys. His project is called Show some love this Christmas with Sierra Leone kids. These children have faced a tripartite of war, ebola and mudslide flooding. They are dealing with sickness, death, living in poverty and other post-war challenges. If you can help Andrew with this worthy cause, please contact him at 202-878-5177 or email at andrewgreenejr@outlook.com. Or check out his website and make a donation at www.bgiftedfoundation.cfsites.org

State Deputy's Report

State Deputy Stephen M. Cohen

cohensmc42@aol.com

My Brothers All,
Here we are in February already. I want to thank everyone who participated in the Box of Joy Program, the Mid-Term Meeting and the March for Life. All three had a great showing of the Knights and their families here in Maryland. Let's keep up the great work that we do.

As we are in the last six months of this Fraternal Year, let's make sure that all of our Councils are Membership Active. This means recruiting at least one new member and getting them through the Admissions degree and then onto the others. There are many incentives out there for recruiters, let's take advantage of them. These are both Supreme and State Incentives. The biggest of which is the $4.50 rebate for those councils making Star Council.

We need to continue to grow our Order, Our State and Our Councils. As we lose members, particularly to death, we need to replace them. The State has seen almost 300 deaths already this year. If we are to continue to do the good works that we do; we need new members. We have done well thus far. Keep up the good work. Your District Deputy and the State Membership Team are here to assist you – Just ask.

The Box of Joy Program, our partnership with Catholic Outreach, was very successful this year. This program will continue to be an excellent one to get involved in. Next year we are looking for 2,000 boxes from our councils, auxiliaries, and friends. In early January, myself, Vicki and Dale and Linda Trott had the opportunity to witness something that was truly spectacular. Catholic Outreach took us on a Vision Trip to Guatemala. It was both an eye opening and heart warming experience. We visited many places that are helped by Catholic Outreach. A home for abused women and the children, a school for girls, a village where people live in very small houses with unpurified water and an orphanage for special needs children. Not one of these places receives any assistance from the government. Cross Catholic is there for them. They build $2000 houses, they do well projects to get them water, they provide assistance any way they can.

One of these ways is the Box of Joy Program. We had the great honor of being the first donors to go on a trip like this and present boxes of joy. You can only imagine the smiles on the children's faces when they received their box. The people that we visited with were so faithful and so believing in the fact that God will provide. We did produce a video while on this trip and our intention is to show it at our Spring Meeting and then place it on our website.

As always, remember, WE ARE ADVOCATES OF THE LORD in everything that we do.

Continue to strive to make this our Best Year Ever.

We believe in the power of prayer! Please join us in praying for the following people:

Mary Lou Young

The George Keys family

If you have any prayer intentions for someone in your family, please contact DGK John Journell to get the person's name included in our prayers. You may also fill out a prayer request form on our Council website.

Our Lady, Queen of the Knights, bless all the activities of our Order. Keep us true to our pledge, to extend the kingship of thy divine son on earth. Through Thine intercession, win for us the grace, ever to exemplify in our public and private lives, the virtues that should characterize those especially dedicated to the service of the heavenly court. Make us always aware that as your Knights, we are constantly observed, our faith judged, and our Order appreciated. Accept, O Mary, this renewed pledge of fealty and devotion, of Thy Servants, the Knights of Columbus.

THE TEACHINGS OF HUMANAЕ VITAE AND ADVANCEMENTS IN THE SCIENCE OF FERTILITY CAN HELP US BUILD A CULTURE OF LIFE

by Supreme Knight

Carl A. Anderson

AS WE PREPARE to observe the 45th anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court's Roe v. Wade decision, another anniversary comes to mind. July will mark 50 years since Blessed Pope Paul VI's 1968 encyclical, Humanae Vitae, on the regulation of birth.

The legacies of both are related to extraordinary scientific advances that opened up new technological means to control the transmission of human life.

When the Supreme Court revisited Roe in the 1992 Planned Parenthood v. Casey decision, the 5-4 majority argued that Roe could not be overturned because, for two decades, people had made choices about their lives and intimate relationships "in reliance on the availability of abortion in the event that contraception should fail."

Pope Paul had a very different response to such challenges — one that has been described as

"Christian personalism." In Humanae Vitae, he wrote this about married love: "Husband and wife become in a way one heart and one soul, and together attain their human fulfillment. It is a love that is total. ... Whoever really loves his partner loves not only for what he receives, but loves that partner for the partner's sake" (9).

Humanae Vitae proclaims that each person is worthy to be loved and respected for his own sake and possesses a dignity that is inviolable. This proclamation is more necessary today than ever as scientific experiments in areas such as artificial intelligence, robotics and genetic manipulation push past boundaries of even the most imaginative science fiction writers.

Pope Francis, in his encyclical Laudato Si', wrote this: "The acceptance of our bodies as God's gift is vital for welcoming and accepting the entire world as a gift from the Father and our common home, whereas thinking that we enjoy absolute power over our own bodies turns, often subtly, into thinking that we enjoy absolute power over creation" (155).

Science and technology will confront us with new questions about what it means to be human. And the answers will be increasingly difficult as the line between reality and virtual reality is blurred.

Today, as in 1968, Humanae Vitae is an important part of the Church's response. Unfortunately, some will use the occasion of the anniversary to reignite old controversies, but this approach will miss its enduring value.

St. John Paul II promoted Humanae Vitae, though he thought that further explanation was needed for its teachings to gain wider acceptance. That is one reason why he developed a "theology of the body," and why he devoted so much time to it.

But already in 1968, natural family planning advocates such as my friends Drs. John and Evelyn Billings welcomed Humanae Vitae and supported its teaching with a natural method of fertility management now known as the Billings Ovulation Method.

Just last year, the European Union certified a new mobile app that uses an algorithm developed by a Nobel Prizewinning physicist to measure a woman's body temperature to accurately predict ovulation. According to one English news source, the app, known as Natural Cycles, "could spell the end for hormonal and intrusive birth control measures."

Such a result would come not a moment too soon. The World Health Organization has classified estrogen-progestogen oral contraceptives as Group 1 carcinogens. That means they are known to be carcinogenic for women, increasing their risk of liver, cervical and breast cancer.

Natural family planning methods encourage women to better understand the delicate natural processes of their bodies. They encourage better communication and respect between husbands and wives.

Perhaps this new "science" of the body will enable a new generation of Catholic spouses to live an authentic theology of the body in their marriages and will help the world rediscover the dignity of human life and love.

Vivat Jesus!

The Piscataway Indians once roamed the majestic shoreline here. A drop from the ledge beyond the cupola may be higher than some sky scrapers. I've seen silver winged eagles just beyond my reach and frightened deer careening through a 200 acre forest. But it's not for the natural splendor we have come.

Sometimes God speaks with a still small voice. At Loyola Retreat House on the mouth of the Potomac this happens often. Everyone is asked to be silent after the first meal. It's hard to hear God speak when someone else is speaking.

The Retreat is whatever you want it to be. Our Jesuit instructors are always creative but never exceed Catholic boundaries. Attend every spiritual talk if you choose or spend the weekend alone in your room. As long as you show up for Sunday Mass, it's up to you.
